

ROCKEFELLER MILLIONS TO PAY FOR NATIONAL SOCIAL SURVEY

BOARD NAMED TO USE 'FAST' AMOUNT

Foundation Provides Money for Experts to Study the National Life Problems

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP).—The Rockefeller Foundation has placed a sum of unlimited millions at the disposal of President Hoover to be used in making a nation-wide survey into "significant social changes in our national life."

The President immediately appointed a committee to follow: WESLEY C. MITCHELL, social science research council and professor of economics, Columbia University.

CHARLES E. MERRILL, chairman of the department and professor of political science, University of Chicago.

WILLIAM F. OGBURN, professor of sociology, University of Chicago.

HOWARD W. OGDEN, director of institute for research in social sciences, University of North Carolina.

SHELBY M. HARRISON, director of social dimensions, Russell Sage Foundation, New York.

The survey, it was stated at the White House, will probably require three years to complete. It will deal primarily with the changes which the age of invention, machinery and new kinds of employment have wrought in the American life and home and what may be expected in the future.

The research will study the occupations established for years, but which are disappearing with the present era, and what may be done with the skilled and unskilled labor which has to go into other fields.

OLD AGE PENSIONS. The survey will also devote attention to old age pension, the effect of urban life upon physical and mental health and the problems growing out of "increased leisure" as the working day and week are shortened.

It was said it would be impracticable to get a fixed sum for a work which the President intends shall be extensive and cover every industry and agricultural activity in the nation and so the Rockefeller Foundation has authorized the new commission to draw any sums necessary.

Autobus Is Freed in Funeral Car Crash

Murdoch McDonald of Cambridge, in Malden court today was found not guilty of interrupting the funeral procession of the late Capt. Florence R. Sullivan of Lynn, 72, Boston. On the day of the funeral, December 2, McDonald's car was in collision with a machine carrying fire captain and lieutenant who were pallbearers.

It was brought out that the pallbearers' car had left the line to resume its proper position near the head, and Judge Davis ruled it therefore not its privilege to pass of the funeral procession.

No Comedy for Victim of This Girl's 'Joke'

Malden police today were seeking a girl with loose in her voice and a perverted sense of humor, who spring a surprise on Mrs. J. A. Jefferson of Eastern ave., by summoning to her home policemen, fireman, a plumber, a taxi driver, a physician and an undertaker.

They all arrived at about the same time, each having received a telephone call apparently from the same girl.

The girl in each case urged haste. Malden police have as in the identity of the practical joker and expect to locate her shortly.

SUBMITTEN UNDER TARIFF ASSN.'S VICTIMS FACE DENOUNCED AS 'MYTH' DAMAGE WAIT

Waverley Girls and a Hyde Park Man Return With Thrilling Tales

Graphic stories of their peril when the R.F. Fort Victoria was rammed by the Algonquin during a fog in New York harbor were related here today by three station survivors.

"We were sitting in the lounge of the Victoria reading" said Miss Josephine Cohn of Waverley, who was on her way to Bermuda to work as a waitress in the Hotel Bermuda. "We felt the ship tremble violently when the Algonquin rammed it and both of us ran out with others to see what had happened. It was cold, rainy and blowing."

"Officers were telling everybody that there was danger now, later, telling us to put on life preservers. We hurried to the life preserver room and tied ours on with fingers that were all thumbs. I forgot to take my watch which was hidden in my mailbox and of course we did not stop to take and baggage."

FACE SAD CHRISTMAS

"How I remembered to pick up my money more than I know now, but I did. That is lucky for me as the little money I carried is all I have in the world."

Officers of the Furman-Bendall line in Boston informed them that they could not pay any claims for lost baggage or valuables until the disaster is investigated.

"It will be a very sad Christmas for me," said Miss Cohn. "I had spent most of my money getting new things for the winter. I am in Bermuda where I expect to work all winter. Broken clothes, no job."

They saw officers in charge of a lifeboat cashed deeply over one eye by the axe which he swung the wrong way in chopping at the ropes.

Harry Otto of Metropolitan ave. Hyde Park, said the Algonquin struck the Victoria squarely amidships within a few feet of where he was promading on the deck.

"I just turned cold all over for a moment," Otto said. "I never saw such magnificent courage in my life as that of the captain."

He said he was running to each station with his flashlight to see that all passengers were out before he would leave the ship.

Otto declared that the Algonquin bounced back "like a rubber ball" disappeared around the bow in the rescue, falling not part in the rescue.

"I felt sorry for a woman who was climbing into the lifeboat who remembered that she had put on $15.00 necklace in the pinnit's safe when she came aboard. She not and begged someone to get it for her, but I do not think anyone went back to open the safe."

A mother and baby received the tenderest care from the officers who took them from a berth near where the great blow was torn in the side of the ship, he said.

Algonquin Docks Two Days After Collision

New York, Dec. 20 (AP).—The liner Algonquin which rammed and sank the liner Fort Victoria in the fog off Ambrose Light, November 18, returned to her Hudson river pier today.

The ship, which had 140 passengers aboard, had been fogbound since the collision.

Three men, who had relatives aboard, were at the pier when the Algonquin docked.

After the letters were read to the survivors of the collision, the ship was towed to the Hudson river pier today.

The ship, which had 140 passengers aboard, had been fogbound since the collision.

Besides paying 15 to 20 percent more for sugar, the tariff bill would have had by much additional money on the new situation.

Placed in the company has been increased to $10,000,000, Senator Walsh (D., Montana), asked.

"Yes," Potkin replied. "Potkin said he had discussed the sliding scale with Chairman Eaton of the Senate Finance Committee."

Did you discuss with President Hoover? Walsh asked.

I called on Mr. Hoover in an informal way and he asked me what I thought of it. I told him I thought it was surrounded with a good deal of hazard."

WADDELL HITS BLACKSTONE LAXITY

Declares Officials Fail to Observe Laws in Town Administration

Sharp criticism of the conduct of the members of the town of Blackstone is made in an audit report just today in the town official by Theodore N. Waddell, state director of accounts.

The practice of making shams of all taxes in the town, 251 Waddell wants should be discontinued.

He complains that expenditures are being made with little regard to the amounts appropriated, and that no accurate record is not collected in conduct of the general laws.

Very little improvement in the law has been made in local methods since the last audit in 1927.

The state auditor, he revealed, found a total surplus of $23,330.00 which was entirely offset by outstanding amounts receivable in town taxes, overdraws against the state and various officials.

Waddell pointed out that the 1928-29 fiscal year the town authority on balance, a sum not exceeding $16,000 in net losses in anticipation of various and other items which he pointed out also, that the 1929-30 fiscal year the town authority on balance, a sum not exceeding $16,000 in net losses in anticipation of various and other items which he pointed out also, that the 1929-30 fiscal year the town authority on balance, a sum not exceeding $16,000 in net losses in anticipation of various and other items which he pointed out also.

The report also brought out that two appropriations voted in 1929, amounting to $2,500 were not included in the list of appropriations certified to the auditors by the town clerk.

BRITON IN HOP TO AUSTRALIA

London, Dec. 20 (AP).—Another British aviator today was winning his way toward Australia. Capt. F. C. Chubbester climbed into the cockpit of a tiny Moth airplane at Cranford today and sailed in friends. "Cheer up, I'm off to Australia."

He got his plane into the air and took off in the direction of the continent. Officials believed an attempt to beat Rein Hingst's record of 15 days between England and the Australian continent established in January, 1925.

Capt. Chubbester is a wealthy New Zealander and a former Royal Air Force pilot.

Machine Gun's Deadly Rattle Heard in Courthouse as Law Seeks Clues in Chicago Gang Massacre

Just an ordinary occurrence two automobiles scraping fenders, but it meant the death of Patrolman Skelly. As the policeman approached, one of the drivers, believed to have been Burke, drew a revolver and shot him dead. A reward of $100,000 has been offered for Burke. (International Newsweek photos.)

Fred R. Burke, sought as killer of Patrolman Skelly in St. Joseph, Mich., and in whose home was found $219,830 worth of stolen goods. (Associated Press photo.)

Drawing shows how Patrolman Skelly met his death, without a chance to protect himself. The hands of Burke, could not risk questioning by police, even on a matter so trivial as a collision. So he stepped forward, and his gun spouted death.

The rattle of machine guns, to accompaniment of which seven Moran gangsters went to their death in the Chicago Valentine day massacre, re-echoed through the county building in Chicago when an attempt was made to identify some of the arsenal seized in Burke's home. Bullets taken from the gangsters' bodies were marked similarly to bullets found in Burke's home. Burke is said to have introduced machine guns into gangster warfare.

McDONALD MUST YET FACE HIS BIG CRISIS

London, Dec. 20 (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald today presented the confidence of the British House of Commons on an important measure but only by the narrow margin of eight votes. This Commons voted the right move but on its second reading, 211 to 227.

Since the voting was so close, it should be noted that the government stands on a narrow margin only because 22 Conservative members were absent. The government leaders did not expect their disappointment at their recent defeat.

Lord cheering came from the Labor action when the result of the division was made known, but this was drowned out by cries of "Fudge" when official figures revealed that how slim was the government majority.

The vote actually was on a Conservative amendment rejecting the bill in its present form. The division showed the first serious crisis that has confronted the administration. Triumph of the Conservative amendment would have defeated the chief project of the government and would have meant a new election.

In the morning on the second reading of the bill the premier again considered questions of the Labor Party. Without the support of which party the Government cannot survive, in the committee of the whole House of Commons the Government lost the bill by a narrow margin of eight votes and all but two of its members voted with the opposition.

Between now and January 21, when Parliament resumes after the holidays, Government will negotiate with the various political and economic interests that have registered disapproval of the bill. It is to be expected that the measure will be amended.

Mr. Chamberlain charged that the measure contained the worst features of socialism with none of its best features. He denounced the bill as vicious and as likely to cause the price of coal.

FAST START NOT SPEED PERIL MENACE

Paris, Dec. 20 (AP)—Dr. GARREAU, chief medical examiner of licensed pilots, has found that it is rapid acceleration and not speed, that is dangerous to airmen.

Man, he says, can travel a hundred miles a minute without physical harm or great discomfort but too quick a start or too sudden a stop may lead to death.

Just as many people feel a shaking sensation in a fast elevator, so a pilot suffers various troubles when acceleration is too great, in a dive or other maneuvers.

The difficulty, the doctor explains, is that blood is displaced in the body with great rapidity, straining the vessels on the arteries, often rupturing them. Something akin to a sudden stop occurs in turning corners in a speed test, such as the Berlin stop races, centrifugal motion causing a tremendous rush of blood in one direction.

One of the curious facts revealed by many laboratory experiments is that a motion of the head during acceleration instantly causes dizziness.

None of these difficulties occur in ordinary flying but Dr. Garreau, who is a doctor of medicine, has carried on his research work for several years believing that ultimately speed now impossible will be attained and their work will prove valuable.

Savage Black Hawk Gets P. O. Pigeons

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—A notorious outlaw, a death-dealing figure in black, has just been discovered in the jambs, grates and bars of the Postoffice Department building.

The discovery was made, however, not by postal officials, but by the police, but by a combination of the outlaw is a solitary duck-hawk.

Austin H. Clark of the Smithsonian Institution today reported the presence of the bird, one of the most savage members of the hawk family and one that is usually found alone, roosting on the tops of trees, where it can swoop down from the cliffs upon unsuspecting prey.

Suddenly more cunning than its brethren, this particular duck-hawk has found that the pigeon is a more profitable and easier prey. The huge postoffice building gives it a safe home with few walls, and already he has taken a heavy toll from among the helpless birds.

TERROR REIGNED IN PRISON AT AUBURN

Albany, Dec. 20—In a report to Governor Roosevelt on the recent Auburn prison riot, Col. George F. Chandler declared that "A veritable reign of terror has obtained in this prison through the machinations of the criminals in control of the (Mutual Welfare) League." He recommended the abolishment of that organization.

The report also recommended the employment of at least 50 more guards, immediate relief of overcrowding, segregation of incorrigible prisoners, withdrawal of special privileges, increase of allowance for prison food and the appointment of a sufficient civilian staff to handle lines of communication from the institution to the outside world.

Cells at Auburn were described by the colonel as "antiquated, damp, dark and cold."

"Prisoners there," he asserted, "are poorly and inadequately clothed." Facilities for searching prisoners after visits from the outside also were termed "totally inadequate."

"Since the riot in July there has been a great feeling of unrest in the prison," he continued, "and some desperate characters have obtained control of the Welfare League and have held responsible positions in the league. This has given them freedom and they have gone about the yard throughout the corridors and have used their league room at any and all times, even well into the night."

"In fact, we have a statement from a guard at the gate that night after night he has looked through the window of this room at gambling going on, with money on the table and drink, and a character he did not know, but surprised."

"Prisoners have called at the guards and have used vile and abusive language to them, defied their authority and when put in cells by the guards have been so infuriated that they have threatened to kill the guards."

"League members have taken prisoners out of the line as they were marching and have ordered them into the league room and themselves have behind closed doors, beaten prisoners so that they had to be taken to the hospital."

"It is surprising that a riot of this kind has been so long in the making and it is surprising that the guards have been so long in making arrests and have been so long in making arrests and have been so long in making arrests."

"The guards have been so long in making arrests and have been so long in making arrests and have been so long in making arrests."

Fireman did quick work as extinguishing the blaze and the damage was not at $50. Police did not reveal the name of the person in whose room the fire occurred.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Meade as she was making her rounds through the corridors. She telephoned fire headquarters from the street early today, when a fire was turned in from box 1653. Smoke filled the building and ten of the lodgers believed that a serious fire was taking place rushed down several flights of stairs to the street in their night clothing.

BRITAIN HAILS KING'S PLACE IN PARLEY

London, Dec. 20 (AP)—National approval was given today to King George's place in the parley personally will open the naval review in the conference convening here in January.

It was felt no other move could so much have stimulated public interest in the conference and given it a more striking and so on. It will be the first occasion of King George attending an international conference.

Whether the decision to open the naval talks was the King's own or that of some member of the Government, it generally was considered a particularly astute move and as stressing for the British people the deep consequence of the matter at issue.

Incidentally, it was accepted as a firm indication of the King's recovery from the serious illness which beset him last winter.

Iowa Needs a Good Drunk, Rep. Black Tells House

Washington, Dec. 20—The assertion that "nothing would do Iowa more good than a good substantial drunk" was made in the House today by Representative Black, a New York Democrat.

Representative Dickinson, Republican of Iowa, asked the "gentleman from New York if he knew the corn raised on one-quarter of an Iowa land would make enough alcohol to keep all of New York drunk for six months," and drew Black's reply.

There Is Still Time to Select a SCOTT Dependable FUR COAT for CHRISTMAS

A TYPICAL SCOTT SHOPPING INCIDENT

Let us accompany Mrs. J. B. Brown on her Christmas fur coat shopping tour. Mrs. Brown's neighbor has purchased a coat at Scott Furriers and is so completely satisfied, in every respect, that she has prevailed upon Mrs. Brown to visit Scott Furriers and at least examine the splendid selection of fur coats ranging in price from $95 and up to $795—Scott coats from $15.00 and up to $195.00 and the fur coats from $15.00 and up to $195.00. Brown arrives at Scott Furriers at exactly 9:48 A. M.

Thrifty shoppers assisted by courteous salespersons are selecting their coats. It would appear on the surface that the entire sales force is occupied and that Mrs. Brown might be waiting for a delay. But a courteous saleslady is promptly assigned to assist Mrs. Brown. The saleslady is one of much experience. She knows exactly the style and type of fur coat that is most suitable to Mrs. Brown's personal characteristics. By ten o'clock Mrs. Brown has selected the Fur Coat she has always longed to own. She is highly pleased with the high quality of fur—the up-to-the-minute style—the tailoring and the price.

Mrs. Brown is now ushered into one of twenty offices where her arrangements for paying are discussed in strict privacy. A salesman explains the exclusive advantages offered by the Scott Unique Fur Club. She is given her choice of one of three ways of paying. She may pay cash. She may open a charge account or she may make small weekly or monthly payments while wearing her Scott Fur without delay, inconvenience, or extra charges by joining the famous SCOTT UNIQUE FUR CLUB (Registered), the only one in New England—THE EASIEST, FAIREST and MOST ECONOMICAL PAYMENT ARRANGEMENT EVER KNOWN. At 10:15 A. M. Mrs. Brown is on her way home, wearing a handsome dependable Scott Fur Coat, completely satisfied that her investment of thirty minutes of shopping time is going to bring her returns in comfort and satisfaction.

BROOKLYN BEAUTY IS BACK WITH HUSBAND

Although denied by her father in Boston, Helen Lee Worthington, movie and stage beauty, and her husband, Dr. Eugene C. Nelson, admitted today in Los Angeles that the physician is colored.

However, the love of the beautiful blonde from Brooklyn for her husband transcends any social or racial barrier, she asserted.

To prove her assertion, she was taken to her home in the negro quarter of Los Angeles where, for two years, she has lived with Dr. Nelson whom she married at Tijuana, Mexico, in June 1927.

It was a report of their separation that led to discovery that Dr. Nelson was not entirely of Caucasian blood. This disclosed over another woman, both admitted after becoming involved in an attorney's office.

Friends intimates to her before our meeting that Dr. Nelson was a colored man.

"I have never been conscious of any racial barrier. I love him with all my heart and the greatest happiness I have ever known has been since our marriage."

SURE OF THEIR LOVE.

"To me it is not what the world would call a negro. He is not black in skin or black in heart. I believe he loves me better than anything else in the world and I know that I do him. No matter what racial barrier can separate us."

Dr. Nelson, when asked for a definition of his race, said:

"Well, let us say I am colored."

Asked if he was a negro, Dr. Nelson turned the question with another.

"What is a negro?" he asked.

"He is an African," his inquirer stated.

"I am not an African," Dr. Nelson said, curtly.

FARIED BY 5 DAYS.

Miss Worthington (she took "Worthington" as a stage name), daughter of Richard T. Worthington, a partner of a Back Bay hotel, was separated from her husband only five days, she said.

According to the couple, Dr. Nelson was born in Providence, N. C., in 1885 and received his medical education at Meharry Medical College, Nashville, a school for negroes. He has been in Los Angeles since 1928 as a practicing physician.

REVEALED SECRETLY 3 MONTHS AGO

While relatives and friends have been considering them "just an engaged couple," Miss Margaret G. Ray of Brighton has been married since September, it has been revealed by the bride's parents.

Miss Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Ray of Chestnut Hill, was secretly married to Flynn in Providence, R. I.

The bride, whose father is a well-known Bostonian at present, is a graduate of the Leslie school in Cambridge and has been very active in social and church affairs.

When interviewed at her home she confessed that the keeping of the marriage secret proved to be one of the most difficult things in her life, more so because she carried her wedding ring in her handbag.

None of their friends knew of their marriage and they continued during the last three months to attend social events and the theater with their friends as "just an engaged couple."

Flynn, who is well known in Boston, has been engaged in the cotton and waste business here for several years.

When he took his annual vacation in the fall he had arranged for his fiancée to meet him in Providence. Flynn made all the arrangements for the ceremony, and then the bride told her family that she was going away on a vacation and would stay with friends in Newport.

Mean Thief Rattles Kettle of Sallies

Providence, Dec. 20.—Providence police are seeking a very mean kind of a thief. While one of the Salvia Army bands went into a restaurant to get a cup of coffee, leaving her kettle unattended, a thief came along and took the small sum of 60 cents that was in the kettle, and vanished. The money was to have been used in getting Christmas dinners for the poor of the city.

Special Showing of Film for Youth

In the second presentation of a new series of better motion pictures for children and young people of Greater Boston, which is being sponsored by Boston University school of religious education, a special showing of the picture "The Goose Hangs High," will be given at the Regency Theater at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Dean Henry H. Meyer expressed himself as satisfied with the interest which was shown in the first program given under R. I. auspices.

Hunter Makes Final Pinhurst, N. C., Dec. 19.—James T. Hunter of North Adams, Mass., finalist in the eighth annual members' tournament here, advanced in the final round today by defeating David N. Tallman of Minneapolis, ex-Western senior champion, 4 and 8.

Petition Sale of Rum Found in Rooms, Students Suspended

A new development in the activities of the western Massachusetts companies was outlined before the State Public Utilities Commission at a hearing on a petition of the Southwestern Gas Co. and the Western Electric Co., seeking authority for the sale of the electric plant of the gas company to the electric company.

While the college authorities have neither confirmed nor denied the report, friends of several of the students involved admit its truth.

77 SHIPS FREED AS FOG LIFTS AT NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 20 (AP).—A fleet of 77 ships, fog-bound 12 to 48 hours, moved in and out of New York harbor with safety today as a brisk, cold wind dispelled the dense curtain of mist that had hung along the coast for days.

Fifty of the vessels were incoming, a near-record for a day's arrivals in the harbor. Among them were transatlantic liners, two day boats, that had anchored outside the channel entrance, fearful to proceed to their pier.

Total damage to perishable cargoes and decks of revenue to the fleet of ships held up by the fog, experts estimated at $1,000,000.

The fog, which also covered Long Island and paralyzed airplane service, is estimated to have cost $200 a day through the delay in transmitting funds and securities.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN FOR TWO WEEKS

Washington, Dec. 20 (INS).—All important legislation laid aside, Congress began putting its house in order today in anticipation of a two week vacation over the Christmas holidays.

SOVIET ENVOY RECEIVED BY WALES

London, Dec. 20 (AP).—The Prince of Wales today received K. Sokolnikov, new Soviet ambassador to Great Britain, in the audience chamber of St. James' Palace.

The Soviet ambassador, who is the first of the Communist Russian regime to Great Britain, presented the official credentials of his post.

The ambassador was accompanied to the palace by the chief members of the Soviet embassy staff. There had been an unusual long delay in the presentation of the credentials.

It was suggested that delay in presentation of the Soviet minister's credentials may have been due to disinclination of King George personally to receive a representative of the government which he holds responsible for the deaths of the former earl and the Russian imperial family, blood relatives.

Frits That Add Much to Your Christmas Dinner

TIC SANITARYS ASK MARTHA LEE'S ADVICE

"Please forgive me for bothering you, but I do so want your help," writes one of the younger club members from Hingham, and I want to tell her, as I am telling you all, that it's not a bit of bother, but instead a real pleasure to help you in every possible way. You've no idea what a joy it is to find an extra-heavy mail on my desk and to know that all these good friends, scattered all over New England, have enough confidence in me to let me plan with them.

As I've told you so many times, I don't claim to be a "know it all," but besides the questions that come in my mail, you know, I receive many helpful experiences, recipes and suggestions from thrifty housewives, and all these, added to my own personal experiences, make up a pretty good fund from which to draw for those not so fortunately situated.

Looking over the pile of mail on my desk, for instance, I find first an inquiry as to why last fall's jelly is coming out on the sides of the glasses; from Everett a request for Sunday night supper and for dinner night suggestions; from Roxbury a plea for stuffed peppers with rich brown gravy. A Cambridge resident asks advice in returning her living room. A Haverhill housewife would like a recipe for fig pudding, and from Lynn another a request for special dishes for children.

A New London, Ct., bride-to-be wants to join the Martha Lee Women's Club, saying: "I know I have a lot to learn and will need your help." And from Woburn a request

What to Eat and How to Cook It—They Know

Miss Helen E. Flynn of 95 Mason st., Salem. These two cooking teachers from the Phillips school in Salem received a diploma from the Martha Lee School of Practical Cookery on graduation day.

CAKES, COOKIES CAN BE MADE DELICIOUS

Although the Christmas season is well advanced, many a hostess who has not yet planned her Christmas dinner is not looking forward to it with the same assurance as is Thanksgiving. Perhaps the reason for this is that it is truly an American holiday, and it is the beginning of the Christmas season, the time when European origin customs are being adopted by the expectations of any American housewife.

The cooks-for in these days families of even very moderate means would afford both luxury and preparation for the Christmas feast a month or so in advance. Cakes and pies, puddings and mince meat and goodies, known what was concocted and stored for the great event, and after the feast, everyone was decidedly uncomfortable due to overeating.

Today we enjoy our Christmas holiday not as a day of feasting, but one of enjoyment and true Christmas spirit expressed by the giving of appropriate gifts. It is a day of happiness rather than feasting, and as the Christmas menu, although very old fashioned in origin, may be simple and suitable for the day.

Give special attention to the Christmas cakes and cookies. Delicious ones may be made at home and they're very making at this time of the year. Take on a festive character and become an attractive part of the Christmas party. Nothing purchased can rival packed in fig holiday boxes or in small baskets tied with a bow of bright ribbon, these festive delicacies are much appreciated gifts.

First in importance at Christmas time is the fruit cake. A pleasant change from the usual dark variety is the following light one:

IMPERIAL FRUIT CAKE.
1 cup shortening (butter and lard)
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 lb. almond extract
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup raisins
1 cup currants
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup candied pineapple
1 cup candied cherries
1 cup candied apples
1 cup shredded almonds
1 cup rose water

Cream the shortening until very light. Add gradually the sugar and beat well. Then stir in the almond extract and vanilla and add the fruit and nuts. Mix and pack in fig holiday boxes or in small baskets tied with a bow of bright ribbon, these festive delicacies are much appreciated gifts.

First in importance at Christmas time is the fruit cake. A pleasant change from the usual dark variety is the following light one:

Popping Corn Greatest Fun of the Day

Christmas time is the kiddie's time, and at Christmas time most of us feel like youngsters. Memorable evenings of getting ready for Christmas; presents to wrap in snowy times and the way gray poppers pop corn to pop the time to time! Almost before you know it, Christmas is here again.

Pop corn adds so much to all the holiday festivities that you want to be sure to have plenty on hand for the occasion. What a crowd! Can't you look back to childhood days with a happy sigh, remembering "the week before Christmas" preparations; candy making, popping corn before the open fire, and the fun of stringing the starry disks in drapes in facelike strings? This week before Christmas on the Christmas tree.

New-days it may be the electric popper on the living room table, but perhaps a kettle on the stove, but the fun is the same. There will always be a festive air about popping corn.

No Christmas tree is really complete until it is draped with chains of popcorn. They are made so quickly and simply by stringing the pop corn on heavy thread as children in their string beads.

FOR THE BIRDS, TOO

As a tree decoration the snowy bird's nest is a favorite. The tree and bring happiness and Christmas joy to all. The bird's nest work is not done, for when the holiday work has ended and the time and planning ornaments have been removed, the nest can be taken out into the yard, planted in the snow or ground to provide a welcome feast for the birds.

It is truly a delight to watch the little fellows perch on the branches, pecking at the choice morsels of popped corn, so when your Christmas celebration is over, and the tree is ready to be taken out, don't forget the birds. They, too, will be grateful for your Christmas pop corn.

New recipes add zest to the Christmas pop corn candy. Children delight in fashioning pop corn balls to be suspended from the branches of the Christmas tree. Then, too, pop corn balls on a stick, wrapped in cellophane paper and tied with holly leaves, make a jolly filler for the top of the Christmas stocking. Here's the recipe:

Wack Turtle Soup
Spaghetti with Cheese and Tomato Sauce
Stringless Beans Bread and Butter
Asparagus Salad
Peach Halves with Cream
Demi-tasse

One merit of this meal is its saving of labor. All three of the hostesses need only be heated and served. As to prices, two cans of mock turtle soup cost 14 cents each, and you can buy three cans of spaghetti with cheese and tomato sauce for a quarter. A can of stringless beans costs 29 cents, a loaf of bread, 10 cents, and the necessary butter 10 cents. Asparagus for the salad costs 19 cents a can, lettuce 10 cents, and artificial asparagus, 5 cents. A can of peaches costs 23 cents, and a small bottle of cream 29 cents. Eggs at 18 cents, bread 10 cents for four and 18 cents for six. The total cost for the meal is 1.14, including 6 cents for fuel and 18 cents for the food. The food can be obtained at prices quoted at sales in the stores throughout the country.

These girls are typical of the wide awake, up-to-the-minute young women who attend Martha Lee's school. Their diplomas secure for them credit at the State House for the extension work required of every public school teacher.

In addition to that, Miss Cole says: "I have studied foods on the Continent as well as in this country and I must say that Martha Lee is the best cook in captivity. I have been doing for the classes for the past two years and find Martha Lee's recipes and instructions clear and practical and extremely helpful. I have been teaching cooking for the past three years and previous to that had experience in conducting a tea room at Ormond Beach, Florida.

As the winner of the $500 Prize in the American Home Economics Contest three years ago, I have an especially warm spot in my heart for the Boston Evening American and the wonderful opportunities it offers housewives through the Martha Lee Cooking classes.

Miss Flynn, who is a graduate of the Essex Aggie School, and was for some time assistant dietitian in a Lawrence hospital and proprietor of tea room at Salem, teaches home economics at the Phillips School in Salem three evenings a week. "I've enjoyed every minute at the Martha Lee Cooking classes and have received extremely valuable assistance in my work," she says. "I think it is simply wonderful for the Boston Evening American to give us these classes."

Dipping Chocolates Easy, But Fussy

Dipping chocolates has an old-fashioned reputation for being difficult. By following only a few simple rules, even the inexperienced housewife can make her dipped chocolates her own of a professional quality and appearance.

The first rule in chocolate dipping is to use only confectionery chocolate. The second rule is never let it get hotter than 110 degrees F. It is absolutely imperative.

To melt it, put the chocolate in small pieces in the top of a double boiler. Put hot, but not boiling, water in the bottom and then stir the chocolate until melted. When completely melted, stir the chocolate with the fingers or a spoon. It is ready about 10 degrees below 110.

The room in which the dipping is done must be cool, not over 70 degrees, and without excess moisture in the air. To cover the centers, take a piece of candy a dipping shallow whip. Beat thoroughly. Line cake pans with old paper. Separate lady fingers and place around edge. Crumble remaining lady fingers. Put crumbs, nuts and cream mixture in pan in alternate layers. Chill in food compartment until firm. Serve with M&M's.

As the centers, fondant, fruit, dainties, fruit jellies and tarts.

Press the contents of a night-size can of sugar through a sieve, making a puree. Add one-half cup of butter, one cup of sugar, one-half cup of corn syrup, one-half cup of lemon juice. Beat until the mixture is thick and add 22 degrees. Pour into a pan and let cool. Let stand overnight in a cold place. Cut in cubes and dip in chocolate. The perfect surprise is made according to the contents of the bottle of commercial puree. Plain fondant, the traditional one for chocolate, can be varied by flavoring it with fruit, which will make the taste a pleasant surprise. For instance, press the contents of an eight-ounce can of raspberries through a sieve, add one tablespoon of sugar and boil to a thick jam 225 degrees. Let cool with a fork. Let stand several hours, or overnight. Shape into balls or wafers, let dry off gently and dip in melted chocolate. Appricots can be dipped instead of raspberries. Raspberries may be rolled in chocolate. It is a lovely surprise.

Cold in the Head
Colds in the head and stopped nostrils are cleared by snuffing a solution of warm salt water. Sniff several handfuls carefully so as not to get into your eyes. Then, if you are better, a bulb syringe might be used to inject the salt water gently into each nostril, while the head is bent forward. This washes away the mucus and other irritants, soothes, clears the sinuses and allows them to drain. It shrinks the swollen and inflamed membranes.

NEW ENGLAND DRESSED FRESH PORK

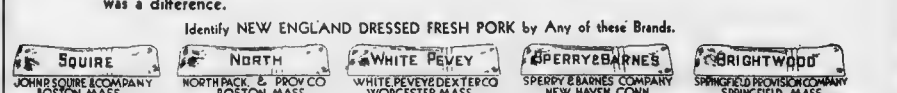

Delivered Within 24 Hours After Cutting

Recently a housewife was seen shopping in a crowded market. "What kind of eggs do you want, Madam?" asked the salesman, "nearby? Henney or Western?"

"Why nothing will do for me but strictly fresh—and by the way, I want a roast of Pork," replied the customer. "How is that piece there?" asked the salesman, reaching into the case. "All right, how much is it?" asked the customer. She was very insistent that the eggs be fresh, but as to the Pork... well, she didn't know there was a difference.

This same scene has been re-enacted millions of times by housewives who have not learned the difference between "Pork" and "New England Dressed Fresh Pork"... and what a difference. Just as great as the variance in Eggs: is the difference in Pork quality. New England Dressed Fresh Pork, only 24 hours from the cutting, awaits you at high grade dealers. It is U. S. Government inspected and passed and is identified by the brand name stamped plainly on the back. It is your guarantee of quality—your protection—and your safeguard. Insist on seeing the brands. It's important.

FRUIT IS FINE IN CAKE

Christmas holidays and parties seem to be a most common motif and while a person may plan only one or two parties, just as likely as not another will happen without an immediate intention. So the housewife has in mind a menu which she can prepare at a minute's notice when she finds a few chance callers have increased to a number.

Practically everyone has fruit cake in the house at Christmas time, and that can form the basis of an always ready dessert. With it you can serve various sauces to make it appear more like a fruit pudding. Whipped cream alone is delicious; or it may have crumbled fruit folded into it. In fact, in a cup of cream, use two thirds of confectioner's sugar, one half of preserved figs, one half of orange, and one fourth of nutmeg. Other fruits can be substituted.

If whipping cream is not at hand, its steady is hard sauce, made by mixing one third of butter and one of confectioner's sugar, to make it fat.

It is better to add candied jelly, apricot pieces or chopped peaches. In case you want to serve a hot entrée the simplest method is to use a creamed meat or fish on toast points.

FISH & LA KING

Most four loaves of butter in a pan and add one sliced plum, an apple and the mushrooms from a previous crop. Bake gently for a few minutes, then add four slices of fish and two of mushrooms. Add the milk, cook at a rolling boil for five minutes, and of the right consistency. Season to taste.

Add one pound of flaked fish being careful not to add more than necessary. Heat thoroughly and serve. A good sauce, Chicken, shrimp, corned beef and other meats can be used with this sauce instead of the fish. Serves six.

CAPE COD BERRIES SCARCE

New England's oldest industry, cranberry growing, had a short crop this year. The cranberries are scarce and high priced. Only the remarkable development of the cranberry industry of recent years makes it possible to supply the enormous demand, particularly for the Christmas market basket.

A few people realize how extensive and important a New England industry cranberry growing is. Located between Cape Cod and the Cape Cod Cranberry Growers' Association, and head of the Ocean Spray Preserving Co., when on at the Ocean Spray factory in South Hyannis.

One of the cranberry started when the Indians introduced them to the Pilgrim fathers, and Cape Cod at it supplies most of the cranberries for the rapidly growing world demand.

Facing a short crop this year, it would have been impossible to provide cranberries for the Christmas dinner everywhere, if it were not for the modern cranberry industry of recent years.

Formerly, the housewife had to buy her own berries, make her own sauce. The berries had to be picked before fully ripened or they would spoil in shipping. Picking them early meant a loss of 20 per cent in size, for the vine ripened berries during the last few days on the vine increase 20 per cent in size, and add 100 per cent in moist content and a great deal in nutritive value and flavor.

Now we let them ripen fully, and preserve them in modern facilities here and the Cape Cod bays. The public gets a product of superior flavor and food value. We get 20 per cent more out of the crop. And the cranberry sauce cooks in much less time than when it was made at home.

SLAYER SOUGHT TO WIN WIDOW WITH POETRY

Westerly, R. I., Dec. 20.—Poetry, it is said, is the best of poets in the art of persuasion, and the late George Shippee, 41-year-old man, and Mrs. Edith Stewart, 34, widow of her husband, were no exception in this respect.

After a letter by Shippee was read in the home of the slain woman, a husband, it was said, that she was afflicted with, after a long illness, death would be a relief to her, and she would be released from her suffering.

Work May Prevent Christmas Visits to Malden Shrine

Construction about the new shrine of Rev. Patrick J. Finner in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden, may not be finished in time to admit the public on Christmas.

The tombstone is being set in a concrete base, and a new fence, seven feet high, is to be erected inside the seven foot fence that now encloses part of the plot, with a gate at each end.

Officials at the cemetery said the new shrine will be set in concrete, and will be erected two feet from the tombstone.

BUDGET PROPOSES THAT DEFENSE LAST IN COURT TRIALS

PROSECUTORS ARE TO PRESENT A CASE FIRST

Rep. Sullivan Says State Is Given Too Much Advantage Over "Innocents"

A drastic change in procedure of criminal cases in the superior courts is proposed in a bill introduced by the legislature by Rep. Charles F. Sullivan of Chelsea. Sullivan says that in all criminal cases before those courts, where an accused is being tried by a grand jury and the defense before a jury, after the defense and the prosecution have presented their cases, the first action of the court should be to decide the guilt of the accused on his bill, Sullivan declared.

It has been a law in this state since this country became a nation, that a person accused of a crime is presumed to be innocent until the government has proved beyond a reasonable doubt that the accused is guilty.

EASY TO ACCUSE
It is an easy matter for one to accuse another of a crime and thereby place the latter in jeopardy. It is not so easy to disprove a charge if it is placed before the jury of a person who is innocent.

In our criminal procedure today, the government in a criminal trial before a jury has the privilege of both opening and closing the case, while the defense is left in the lurch for his defense of life.

It is only just and fair that the government should be given the privilege of both opening and closing the case, while the defense is left in the lurch for his defense of life.

FALSE IMPRESSIONS
Sullivan says there are a great many false impressions as to the procedure of a criminal trial. It is not the government's duty to prove a person guilty, but to prove that he has committed a crime.

It is only just and fair that the government should be given the privilege of both opening and closing the case, while the defense is left in the lurch for his defense of life.

HARVARD A. A. GROSS CASH $1,073,617

Receipts of the Harvard Athletic Association for the year ending June 30, 1929, and derived almost entirely from admissions prices to games totalled $1,073,617, an increase of approximately $56,000 over the preceding 12-month period, according to Henry L. Shattuck, treasurer of the university.

These figures do not include the money taken in during the 1929 football season, during which the Harvard team played before a record attendance.

While the H. A. A. income was increasing during the 1928-29 period covered by the statement, expenses went down, being reduced approximately $32,000.

The chief reduction was in disbursements for permanent improvements of grounds and buildings with a considerable cut in administration expenses also recorded.

The athletic association showed a profit of $21,171.92 for the 1928-29 period, as against only $15,584.86 for the 1927-28 year.

The excess for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, when added to the H. A. A. surplus already in the coffers, gives the department a total surplus of $61,131.82.

From the total surplus on hand June 30, last, $300,000 will be taken by authorization of the university corporation, for completion of the indoor athletic building now under construction.

This building is to cost $1,200,000, of which $700,000 has been contributed in gifts. The swimming pool in this building will be completed in February, in time for the holding of the national intercollegiate and the annual swimming meet.

With this half million subtracted the H. A. A. surplus will be $111,131.82.

Tod Morgan Defends Title Against Bass

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Tod Morgan, of Seattle, Wash., junior lightweight champion, will defend his title tonight at Madison Square Garden against Benny Bass, of Philadelphia, in a 15-round bout.

In Bass, a rugged puncher of his contenders, Bass fought Tony Channon for the featherweight championship in his last major performance here and won a spectacular straight decision. The bout will be the first title test in the Garden within a year. Bass is a bit on heavy for the featherweights but just shy enough in pounds to be unable to meet lightweights on an equal level. The time was 1 hr. 38 min. 22 sec.

At the time was over the 90 minutes stipulated by American Association rules, the one fall was the only one. The fight was a close one, the semi-final, Ed. George, University of Michigan, who has been putting up national performances here every week, floored Bob Wilks of New York in 5 min. 30 sec. with an inside croch, body left and slam. Sam Skorsky was tossed in the opening bell in 7 min. 30 sec. with a head scissor, body left and slam. In the third round, Count Arnyoff tossed Ivan Lomov in 9 min. 25 sec. with a right and left.

In an announced that on Tuesday night, Joe DeVito and "Big" Bibber" McCoy would battle at the argument they had at the St. Nicholas Arena several weeks ago. After Dec. 23 all Bowser shows will be staged at the Boston Arena. As a moving picture concern has taken over the Grand Opera House.

The Tutts basketballs will host their last practice before the Christmas holidays, this afternoon. The squad will return early before the opening of school to get in shape for their first games with Trinity and Connecticut. Action on January 10 and 11.

Coach Manly has decided upon a tentative lineup which will probably open the season, with Cochran and Hartin, a couple of counter-shooting forwards ready to provide their opponents with plenty of opposition. Left Butters is base on all ends and absolute surety. Improved scoring punch that he has shown this year, rounds out a fine offensive trio.

At guard the veteran Dick Warren and Jack Pine, a high school sophomore rookie, seem almost sure to start the season. Bobbin, Haber, Mazzola, Lupich and Beatty are sure to see much action during the season and may out some of the starting combination.

Battle to Draw
Miami, Fla., Dec. 20.—Ginger Jenkins, 34, of Chicago, and Jess Light, 34, of Meriden, Conn., fought eight rounds to a draw here.

POOR OFFICIALS MENACE TO HOCKEY; REFORM BADLY NEEDED

ONE of the most important duties in hockey is the selecting and assigning of referees. Unquestionably, officiating is one of the weakest links in the great winter pastime but the responsibility for the existing conditions is by no means due entirely to the referees themselves.

Granted that there appears to be a scarcity of capable officials. Even with the meagre material available, it would be possible to get far better results by the adoption of a fairly simple system of referees. As the assignment system used by the American and National baseball leagues.

Only three or four of the National Hockey League referees are under contract for the season. The remainder are part-time officials, who because of the failure of the N. H. L. to make refereeing a full-time profession, refuse to donate their entire services to the league. The free lance officials are paid $50 per game and expenses, at the rate of $11 per day plus railroad fares.

As all of the N. H. L. officials reside in Canada, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto, to be exact, at least two days are required for them to get to and from an assignment in the "States." Is it any wonder, therefore, that some of the best officials in the game prefer to work in their own neighborhoods, in preference to accepting N. H. L. assignments?

As officiating is a key to success in any sport, the National Hockey League should spare no expense, time or trouble to secure the best available referees. And, it cannot afford to do otherwise if it expects to hold public interest, without which hockey arena must need be converted into gayagays to meet the carrying charge.

REFEREES IMPORTANT
Under the present system, where it is necessary to rely upon mediocre officials, mediocres in some cases because of the conditions under which they work, the assigning of referees is most important. Poor judgment in the selection of at least one of the officials in the Bruin-Maroon game about

1929 THE BEST YEAR FOR EVANS AUTO LEADING

Dec. 20.—The Evans Auto Leading Company, Inc., has just completed its most successful year from the standpoint of earnings and the outlook is bright for an even more successful year in 1930. Evans & Evans, president, stated today.

In commenting on the successful year just concluded, Mr. Evans pointed out that substantial increase in earnings was recorded in spite of the fact that the new Western division, manufacturing battery plate separators and converter products, was only started last January and showed small earnings for its first six months of the year.

For several years, Mr. Evans stated, your company has been furnishing leading material for the battery plate separators in the United States and we are now manufacturing more than 85 per cent of all the battery plate separators made in this country. It does not look for any substantial decrease in automobile production during the coming year, but even if there should be a substantial curtailment, our battery plate separator business and new allied lines which we intend to add within the next few months should more than offset any reduction in the sale of auto leading material.

"I believe," Mr. Evans continued, "that the Evans Auto Leading Company is financially sound and has an appreciable future of our business or that of any other industry which is essentially right in its own nature."

EDISON RULES CONFICT

The ruling of the New York Stock Exchange committee on securities that members of that exchange must charge commissions on all trades in Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston "when traded" stock, despite the fact that such trades have been entered will have no bearing on the New York Stock Exchange's cancelled all trades in Edison "as a result of the state of the market" and the refusal to allow a short sale of the $100 par stock.

The exchange ruled that members are not compelled to charge customers for executing orders. Edison, when issued the ruling, however, it is known that many houses have charged commissions in violation of the amount of clerical work involved.

Permanent certificates for common stock of E. I. S. are ready for delivery at offices of transfer agents, First National Bank of Boston and Guaranty Trust Co. of New York City in exchange for and upon surrender of temporary certificates. It is expected that application will be made soon for listing of E. I. S. common stock in Boston. The stock is quoted presently on the "B" board.

AIRPORTS

By GEORGE HAMMILL

It seems as though the outlying airports are not so busy as the three fields around Boston which winter makes itself felt, and consequently several of the boys who have been employed at fields away from Boston for the winter are dropping in town to get their pay for the season.

Chiefly among them is George H. White, who was chief pilot of the Massachusetts Airways Corp. of Springfield all summer and who is back in town to spend Christmas with his mother and then pack up for the sunny South.

Walking out one of the most popular fields at the airport, White said that he had been in the past year and checked up several hundred hours more in his pilot's log book.

With the "Big" Trust of the Curtis-Wright air force, White was flying commercially back in 1928 and carried Captain Boardman, present president of the Commonwealth Aircraft Corp. on his wings many a time while the latter was in planes, working week and generally defied death.

Another one of the former boys on the Boston Airport to come back for a short stay is "Red" Robertson, who is now "operating" the Associated Aircraft. "Red" spent the last winter at New Bedford and states that while there he had flown about 100 hours, but he was not able to get again in the spring. Robertson and Danny Duggan, general manager of the Commonwealth Aircraft Corp. since the latter's death, were in the city after the discussion of the various New Bedford instances that cropped up.

Kenneth Hurley, who worked with the Boston Airport, was in the city after the discussion of the various New Bedford instances that cropped up.

As soon as the spring comes around, as well as the summer, the surface of the flying field is maintained as much as possible so that he can get his hands on it.

Yesterday was the second day in a row, and the third day in a row, that the flying field was closed to a single airplane and no one was allowed to fly. The reason for this was that the fog was too thick to fly in and fog and poor flying conditions all along the day, and the fog was too thick to fly in and fog and poor flying conditions all along the day, and the fog was too thick to fly in and fog and poor flying conditions all along the day.

Santa Starts Daily Dead Letter Trips

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP).—Santa Claus had begun to make his rounds of the country, but the Yuletide hunts the dead letter office of the postoffice department.

Last Christmas he brought 8,000,000 letters to the country, but this year he has brought 10,000,000. The reason for this is that the postoffice department has been able to deliver more letters than ever before.

Hoover Administration Deceives Public on League Court Issue

THE Administration at Washington is deceiving the public with regard to the World Court which it is trying to get us to enter.

The real name of this institution is Permanent International Court of Justice of the LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

That is what it is called in the documents signed at Geneva on December 9 by Mr. Hoover's representative, J. Pierrepont Moffat, American Charge d'Affaires in Switzerland.

He signed in the quarters of the Secretariat of the LEAGUE OF NATIONS at Geneva. He did NOT sign at the The Hague, where this court sits. The protocols taking us into the League's Court, when ratified by the United States Senate, will be deposited in the archives of the LEAGUE OF NATIONS at Geneva.

When Moffat signed for Mr. Hoover, he was congratulated by Sir Eric Drummond, Secretary of the LEAGUE OF NATIONS, who stood at his side.

"A THISTLE BY ANY OTHER NAME—"

To Drummond's congratulations were added those of Juan Antonio Buero, formerly Foreign Minister of Uruguay, and now head of the legal section of the LEAGUE OF NATIONS. It was in Buero's office that the signature took place.

Finally, Moffat's hand was shaken by Sanchez Teizidor, a Spaniard in charge of the League Information Section, and by Arthur Sweetser, an American serving under Teizidor in the League's propaganda work.

Yet the Administration would have us believe it is taking us into some kind of an independent "World Court" and Mr. Hoover and his message expressed the thought that "adherence to the International Court is, as now constituted, not the slightest step toward entry into the LEAGUE OF NATIONS."

The truth is that there is no such thing as a "World Court," except in the minds of League propagandists who dare not tell us that this is officially the Permanent International Court of the LEAGUE OF NATIONS, whose judges are elected, hired and paid by the LEAGUE OF NATIONS, which also makes and changes at its will the statutes of the Court.

The people will hold the Senate responsible for knowing just what this Court is. And at the polls, beginning with the primaries next Spring and running through the November elections, they will express their opinion of the Senators and the party that have made themselves responsible for tricking us into AN ACKNOWLEDGED DEPARTMENT OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Build the Tunnel!

Build It SOON and Build It HONESTLY

THE most recently reported plan for the construction of the East Boston Tunnel contained several attractive features.

Save for a circle, or drive, at either end, the tube was to begin at the water's edge on one side of the harbor and end at the water's edge across the bay.

It would eliminate the East Boston Ferry, now maintained at a cost of $300,000 a year.

It called for no great amount of costly land-taking, and so would have left 170 merchants and 530 tenants undisturbed.

Its controversial item was that which called for ramps, or such spiral driveways as may be seen in public garages 15 stories tall.

But how is one to discuss a plan which cometh forth like a flower in the A. M. editions only to be cut down by repudiation and disavowal in the Sporting Extras?

Governor Coolidge admonished us to have faith in Massachusetts, and Boston is the BEST part of Massachusetts.

We have faith in Boston, an abiding faith that the city's representatives will produce something palatable out of the mess too many cooks have made of the $16,000,000 Tunnel.

Please keep in mind, by the way, that it IS a $16,000,000 project.

At least 99 1/2 per cent of our people think of it merely as the EAST BOSTON Tunnel.

Others are thinking of the $16,000,000.

The Boston Evening American is among and with those who urged the BUILDING of the tunnel.

We want it BUILT.

We want it built SOON.

We want it built HONESTLY.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

HALF the women in the world are being wakened, wondering what they will GET from the men of the hour, for Christmas. And the other half are being wakened, wondering what they will GIVE him.

Both are wasting a lot of valuable time and beauty getting and giving.

The only woman who ever gets what she wants and has been expecting and hunting for, in a married woman, who goes out and buys it, and charges it up to Daddy.

And the only way to please a man with a Christmas gift is to refrain from sending him one.

The only thing to give him that will delight and surprise him, is a day of rest—and the peaceful assurance that, so far as YOU are concerned, he is exempt from holiday junk and from worry.

There is something about a present from a WOMAN that either covers a man with hot embarrassment or fills him with cold fright and resentment. The one thing in earth that it never fills him with is GRATITUDE.

A man simply cannot understand how a woman FEELS about Christmas.

To her, it is the Day of Days when she just wills up and bids farewell with sentiment. There is something sacred and beautiful about it, something grand about it that sets her heart a-beating and her blood a-dancing and causes her to pull over with tenderness.

More feminine hearts have been broken by a husband's forgetfulness or gross indifference on this day than on any other 364 days of the year.

But, at this time a man is the strongest vessel filled with suspicion. He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye.

He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye. He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye.

He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye. He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye.

He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye. He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye.

He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye. He looks upon every gift with a suspicious eye.
